

LETTER OF MOTIVATION

I am glad that I have the opportunity to send you my resume for the vacancy of a sound engineer. I am interested in working in your company as I want to use my knowledge and skills gained at the conservatory and have the opportunity to gain extensive practical experience in the music field.

I strive to be the best in my field and I want to work for a company where I can develop my skills, take on interesting projects and work with people from whom I can learn a lot. I am currently finishing my studies at the music conservatory. In 2019, he underwent professional retraining in the specialization of "sound engineering".

I have experience in developing documents for testing and analyzing the quality of coverage of functionality with tests; work with various bug-tracking, including user documentation and business description of functionality, manual functional testing of software, including in the field of testing
